

Cherokee Trail Elementary Pays Tribute to Our Veterans

Students in First Grade at Cherokee Trail recognized Veteran's Day by presenting their annual patriotic musical on Thursday evening for parents and community members and again on Friday for the school, faculty and staff. The Young Marines and scouts from the school and community presented the colors. Veterans, Jay Ashley and Jeff Fultz, were guest speakers. Fifth, sixth and seventh grade students participated in writing essays on What Freedom Means to Me. Some of the essays were read aloud during the program. Other grades participated by creating and displaying art work to pay tribute to the Veterans.

Photo 1- Left to Right are: Andrew Nickles, Savannah Kent, Kayla Prince

Photo 2- First grade students are shown performing their tribute to our veterans.

Photo 3- Left to Right are: Ashton Crocker, Kaytlin Smith, Mati Cox